

Programme Notes

The hall is available to us for just a short time to set up, so we would appreciate if you don't arrive before 6pm.

One dance will be taught on Friday evening to whet our appetites; this will be revised on Saturday for those who can't get there by 8pm.

An earlyish supper on Friday so any who haven't managed to have tea because of travel can have some sustenance.

A later start on Saturday morning as the cleaners don't finish until 9am.

We will book 15 people on the Tour of Parliament at 3pm (need to be there by 2.45pm) on Saturday, but will need to confirm before then. If this is popular, then we can book others onto the 4pm Tour. These guided tours are free and last for one hour.

Please ensure you have let us know if you (and a partner?) are joining us for dinner at Indus for an Indian buffet. $29 per head – pay online (same account as Registration) or in cash when you arrive.

On Saturday evening, the first hour or so will be visitor friendly - we will do some easier and mixer dances suitable for any visitors who may not have danced before. Feel free to invite your Wellington friends! Evening sessions are free.

The Holocaust Centre of New Zealand have agreed to open for us on Sunday afternoon, 3-4pm, subject to availability of a guide. An indication of numbers interested would be helpful. We will take a few carloads from Wellington Girls' College; meet in the carpark at 2.40pm.

We'd like to honour those who have been dancing for 20 years or more. On Sunday evening we will dance some of the older favourites and the "classics" we enjoyed last century. If you did Israeli Dance before 2000, please send us your favourite dance from that time.
